

Creating Compassionate Cultures

Awakening Compassion through Wisdom in our home, workplace, and community

California
August 13th - 16th
Boston
October 9th - 11th

Since 1989, Pam Cayton founder of Tara Redwood School, California, has created, researched and implemented strategies for awakening compassion, wisdom and social responsibility in the hearts and minds of children and young people.

Inspired by the late Tibetan master, Lama Thubten Yeshe, this secular program blends the best of Eastern and Western approaches in education. The curriculum is suitable for people working with children of any faith or culture. Participants will leave with tools, strategies and a foundation in understanding this comprehensive, integrated approach to awakening knowledge, strength, and compassion.
