

Mantras for Blessing Dead Animals/Meat

Below is a collection of mantras that Lama Zopa Rinpoche has identified as being particularly powerful to be said over any dead animals, including flesh prepared for consumption. Recite each one seven times and then blow on the animal. These do not purify any negative imprints or karma we might accrue by participating in the system that led to the slaughter of these beings, but it does offer benefit to them in their current life, whether they are still a bardo being or have already taken rebirth.
